

DataHex Data Shop

E-commerce for data distribution made easy.

RoZetta provides everything you need to launch your e-commerce channel.

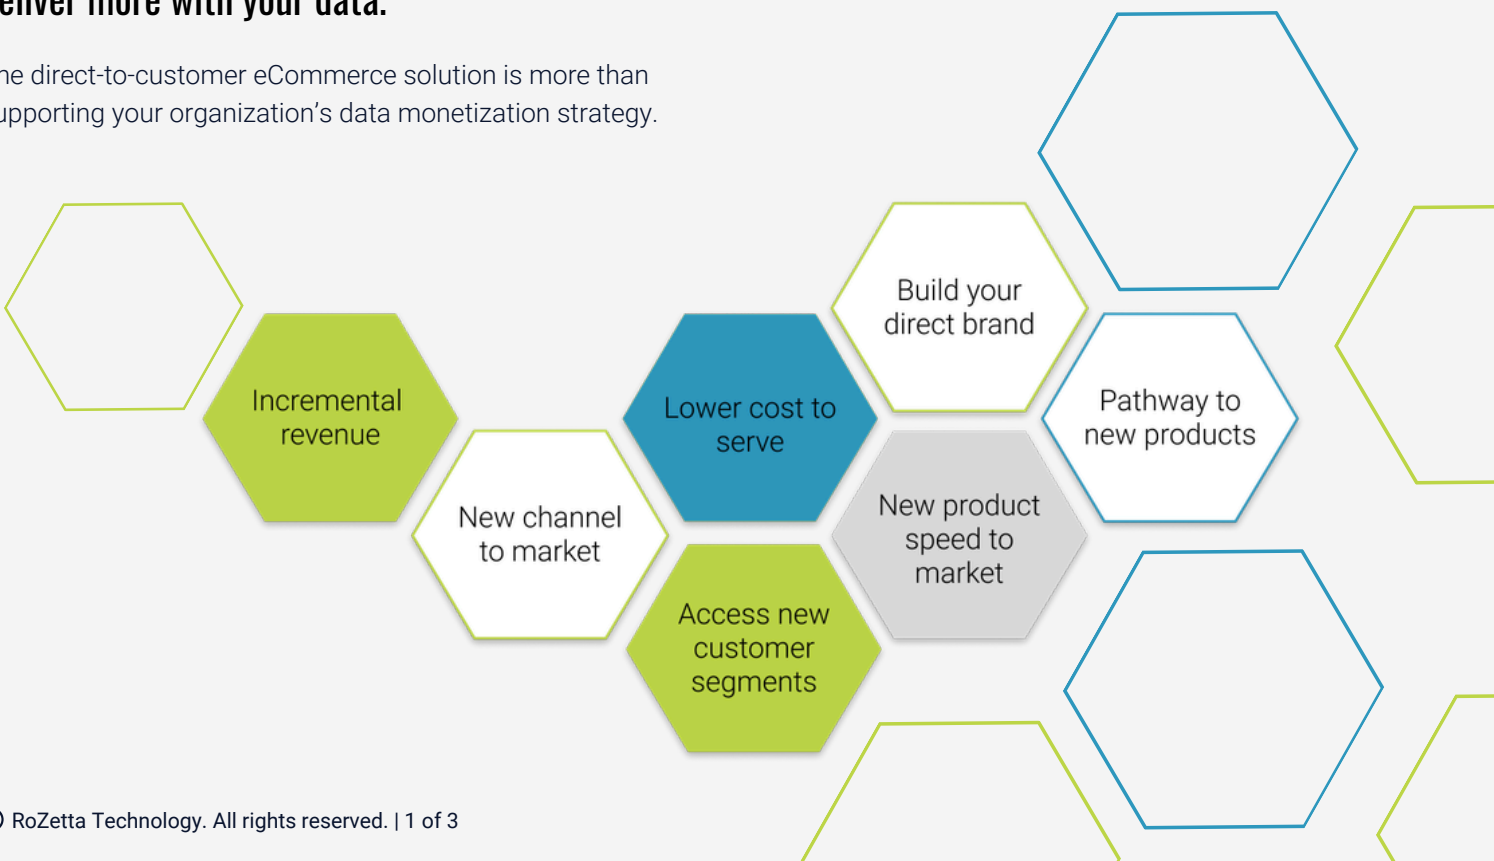

Data owners are adapting their business models to drive a greater share of the revenue from licensing their data for a broad range of use cases, often in new market segments.

To meet the growing demand for financial and non-financial data, data owners need a direct-to-customer e-commerce solution. The DataHex Data Shop platform is designed to increase revenue through enhanced customer experience whilst accelerating the speed to market of new data products and optimizing the cost of managing the data to license.

Deliver more with your data.

The direct-to-customer eCommerce solution is more than supporting your organization's data monetization strategy.

DataHex Data Shop delivers an AI-powered, intuitive user experience for your customers.

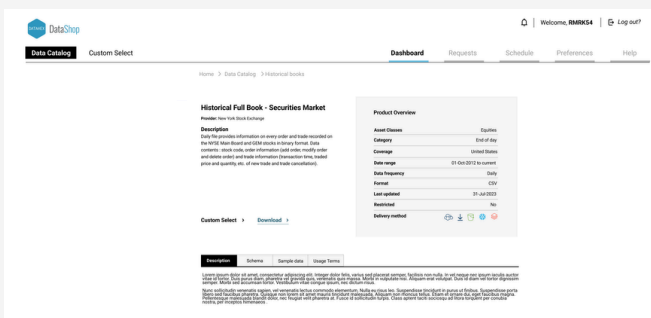

Delivering the data on-demand in your customers' preferred format and to their preferred technology platform minimizes their data wrangling and the cost of data ownership. Key features include: -

- Quickly discover the data products with AI-powered intelligent search and filters
- Custom select capability to access exactly the data required
- Ability to evaluate data products with preview, sample data features and AI-generated value scoring
- Save time and effort with access to the symbology security master
- Remove any friction to purchase with flexible delivery to preferred environments and formats
- Options to extract data from DataHex shop UI or via API
- Schedule automated extracts to a preferred destination
- Digital check out process from license agreement to payment options with AI-empowered licensing and compliance controls

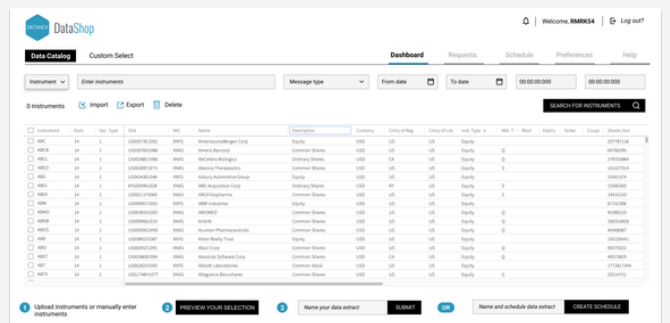

Seamless customer experience workflow

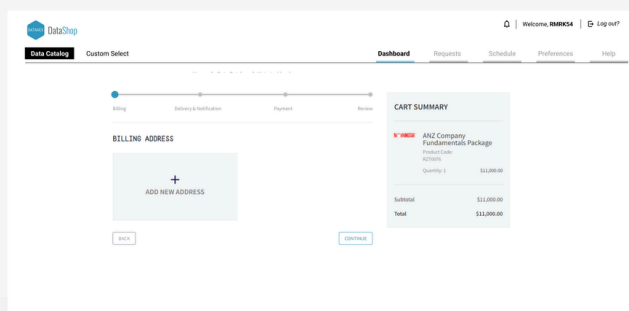

1 | Easily discover with powerful intelligent search and filters.

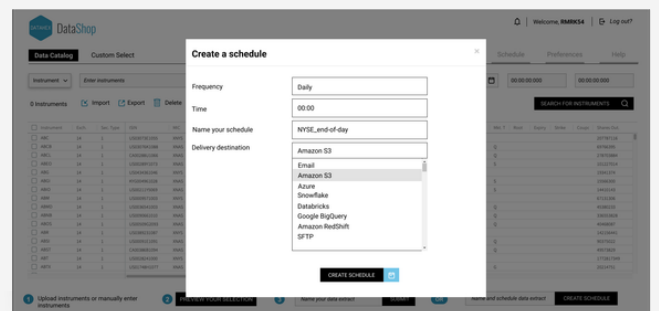

2 | Custom select exactly what you need and preview before access.

3 | Streamlined checkout process from license agreement to payment options.

4 | Schedule automated extracts to a preferred destination

DataHex Data Shop lowers customer barriers to connect and empowers Data Vendors to maximize value.

Effortlessly configure, maintain and optimize your eCommerce store with Data Shop. Our single platform solution makes it easy to organize your data, manage data products, license and deliver the data anywhere, anytime.

New product speed to market.

Efficient and agile data loading process for structured and unstructured data including enhancing data assets by ensuring consistent normalization rules and resolving data quality issues.

Customizable permissioning and control.

Flexible permissions enable setting customized access levels to support subscription, entitlement and quota management at user, application, department and company level.

Configurable product pricing.

Pricing flexibility to suit your go-to-market plans including consumption based, annual and bundled licensing packages.

Integration with multiple payment options.

Integrate with multiple payment options, including invoices for enterprise accounts and credit card payments to service mid-tier and smaller accounts.

Customer reporting.

With reporting across data usage at all levels (application, user, department and company) and customer journey insights, explore opportunities to develop new products or cross-sell and upsell to maximize value from your data.

Access to data enhancement services.

Expand your data offering by adding new internal or external data assets and efficiently building new derived data offerings and testing demand through the Data Shop experience.

Tailored to your brand.

Pricing flexibility to suit your go-to-market plans including consumption based, annual and bundled licensing packages.

Why RoZetta Technology?

RoZetta Technology unlocks the value of our client's information to leverage data as an asset. We use our expertise in data science, data engineering, proven cloud technology, and commercial acumen to maximize the value of your data assets.

Contact Us

To learn more about how Data Shop can unlock your potential to grow incremental revenue and drive innovation, visit us at rozettatechnology.com or email us at enquiries@rozettatechnology.com

